PALM SUNDAY

As he rode along,
the people were spreading their
cloaks on the road;
the whole multitude of his disciples began to praise God aloud
with joy for all the mighty deeds they had seen.

— Lk 19:36, 37b

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD.

VOICE FROM THE PEWS

Every Palm Sunday, I remember the years of being distracted by wiggling children and the shuffling feet of teenagers as the Passion was read. This story of Jesus' last twenty-four hours is a long reading.

It begins with Jesus getting ready to celebrate the Jewish feast of the Passover with his friends. The Jewish Passover is the celebration of Moses bringing the Jews out of Egypt to freedom. Within three days the world would be celebrating a new freedom.

Jesus sends his apostles to find a suitable place to celebrate the great feast. They meet in an upper room where Jesus has his last meal with his friends. At this meal, Jesus gives them (and us) the great gift of himself as he blesses the bread and wine.

After the meal, Jesus goes to pray in the garden, where he is arrested. He then appears before the chief priest and Pharisees and before the Roman official Pilate. At first Pilate orders that Jesus be scourged and beaten, but the crowd (the same crowd that only a week earlier hailed him with palms and cheers) protests: "Crucify him!" Pilate eventually relents. Jesus, condemned to die, carries his own cross through the city to a hillside outside the gates. There he is nailed to the cross, and, after three hours, he dies. And, as prophesied, three days later Jesus rises from the dead. (The latter is not part of the Palm Sunday reading; rather we hear about this next week at Easter.)

In the short span of three days, Jesus brings about a new Passover. Like Moses of that first Passover, Jesus brings us out of slavery, the slavery of fear, greed and prejudice, to freedom. The Passion and death, along with the Resurrection, are the very heart of the gospel.

FAMILY RESPONSE:

Help your children recall the story of the Passion. Read it from a good children's Bible. Put together your own Way of the Cross. As a family, choose 6-10 events from the last days of Jesus' life. Draw a picture of each event and hang them all on the walls. As you walk around to each picture, make up a prayer for each station.

*The Holy Spirit Parish pays respect to the Darug People, the traditional custodians of the land on which we gather to celebrate our faith and worship God.
We acknowledge with respect the elders past and present.*

We are a welcoming parish. Whatever your present status in the Catholic Church, whatever your current family or marital situation, whatever your past or present religious affiliation, whatever your personal history, age, background, race or color, sexual orientation, whatever your self-esteem... you are invited, welcomed, accepted, loved and respected by the Catholic Community of Holy Spirit.

If you are not an active member of this Community, consider sharing in what we have to offer. We serve the Community through outreach, education, social activities, sacramental preparation, youth and comfort to the sick and mourning. In addition to our spiritual and outreach organisations, perhaps you have an interest in joining one of our many liturgical ministries as: Minister of Holy Communion, Lector, Welcomer, Choir, etc.

Persons are formally registered by filling out a form that is then entered into the parish data system (information supplied remains confidential). These forms are available from the parish office or in the church foyer.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Mission of the People of God at Holy Spirit Parish is to witness to and to proclaim the word of God, and to pray and celebrate the Liturgy in word and sacraments so that we may be of service to others and form a community of "one mind and one heart on the way to God." (St Augustine)

FROM POPE FRANCIS:

"We need to let ourselves be evangelized by the poor. They have much to teach us."

(The Church of Mercy)

Mon 15 Apr: 1991, Signing of Aboriginal Deaths in Custody Royal Commission Final Report

Thu 18 Apr: World Heritage Day

Fri 19 Apr: Beginning of Jewish Passover

REFLECTION

Historical Context – Crucifixion

The Romans used crucifixion as a deterrent against insurrection and rebellion. Not only was it an agonising death it was usually a slow, drawn out death – taking days to die. Victims were always crucified in public settings; alongside main thoroughfares or on hilltops outside a city. The victims were left on the cross for weeks while birds and wild dogs ate their bodies. The idea of crucifixion was that nothing was left to bury as this was the ultimate domination and humiliation of the rebel. The account of Jesus dying within a few hours is very unusual.

Scriptural Context – One with the lost

Throughout the Gospel of Luke, Jesus is portrayed as not only the champion of the poor and outcast, but indeed being one with them. The witnesses to his birth in this gospel are lowly shepherds, not the wise men from the East. His parables and actions are addressed to the lost and the lowly. He eats with sinners and other outcasts – to the horror of Jewish leaders. Finally, at his death, Jesus is crucified as a criminal with other criminals. This gospel in particular addresses the message and ministry of Jesus to those on the margins of society.

Gospel Focus – Changing expectations

The early audience of the gospel accounts would have known exactly what was meant by crucifixion. It was an all too familiar reality for them as the Romans sought to suppress any suggestion of opposition to their rule. The early audience would have recognised that the account of Jesus' death and burial was not in keeping with their knowledge of what normally happened. They would have known that something special was being conveyed through this story. They would have known that the story of his death was only a prelude to the real story of Jesus' passion – his resurrection.

Questions for Adults

Why is it Peter, the chosen leader of the disciples, who denies knowing Jesus? Which aspects of this account mark it out as belonging to the gospel of Luke? Why do the gospels go into such detail about the death of Jesus? Why would the beliefs of early Christianity have been confronting to the Greeks and Romans?

ON A LIGHTER NOTE

Once all the engineering professors were sitting in one plane.
Before the takeoff, one announcement came
"This plane is made by your students"
Then all professors stood up, ran and went outside.
But the principal was sitting.
One guy came and asked, "are you not afraid?"
Then the principal replied
"I trust my students very well and I am sure the plane won't even start".

SAINT OF THE WEEK

SAINT BERNADETTE OF LOURDES

Patron Saint of illness, poverty, shepherds, shepherdesses, and Lourdes, France
Feast Day : 16th April

Bernadette Soubirous was born on 7 January 1844, the firstborn daughter of a miller from Lourdes, France. As a toddler, Bernadette contracted cholera and suffered extreme asthma. She endured poor health all her life.

On 11 February 1858, Bernadette, then aged 14, was out gathering firewood with her sister, Marie, and a friend near the grotto of Massabielle (Tuta de Massaviella) when she experienced one of her first visions of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Her visions would continue for several years, and when she reported these visions civil authorities attempted to force her to recant her accounts. She refused, and word spread about the cave she had found with supposed miracle healing springs.

On 29 July 1866, with 42 other candidates, she took the religious habit of a postulant and joined the Sisters of Charity at their motherhouse at Nevers.

Napoleon III's wife helped her achieve her vision to build a church at the cave, and Lourdes emerged as a pilgrimage site for worshippers from around the world.

Bernadette had followed the development of Lourdes as a pilgrimage shrine while she still lived at Lourdes, but was not present for the consecration of the Basilica of the Immaculate Conception there in 1876.

She eventually died of her long-term illness at the age of 35 on 16 April 1879 (Easter Wednesday), while praying the Holy Rosary, and was canonized a Saint in 1933 by Pope Pius XI.

Her mother was present at her canonization – the first mother ever to be present at her child's canonization. St. Maria Goretti is an excellent model and intercessor for today's Catholic youth.
