SAFEGUARDING SUNDAY 2023 – Where We Start Matters!

This Sunday, the Australian Church marks Safeguarding Sunday at the conclusion of National Child Protection Week, first held in 1990 as a way of addressing issues of abuse and offering support to victims. This has affected many institutions in society, and in the late 1990s, the Church began work on formal, professional standards guidelines that reflect the Gospel values of justice, love and common sense in everyday ministry and work.

At this time, we recognise and apologise for the harm done by priests, religious and lay people in Church settings and we pray for those who have been abused, their families and supporters. We acknowledge the immense damage caused by the sexual abuse of children and adults at risk, and we renew our commitment to practices and protocols that create and maintain safe environments for all. We pray for those harmed by abuse directly and indirectly.

In our parishes and schools, staff and volunteers undergo regular training and, in many cases, require certification of their fitness to work with children, such as the WWCC (Working With Children Check). Many of you will be aware of the Augustinians' Commitment to Safeguarding displayed in the foyer of our Church and in every Province ministry.

All Catholic bodies follow the National Catholic Safeguarding Standards as they build child-safe cultures and advance the safety of children and vulnerable adults across Australia. The NCSS are framed within the guidelines promulgated by the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse.

In 2022, members of the Church's Plenary Council expressed 'profound sorrow that children and young people and vulnerable adults have been abused by clergy, religious and lay workers of the Catholic Church, and that religious leaders have failed to act sufficiently to prevent or respond to abuse.'

Every child has the right to feel safe and to grow into a mature adult without the scars of abuse or violence. The primacy of mutual love is stressed in this Sunday's readings, particularly in Paul's letter to the Romans. In the Gospel, Jesus reminds us of our need of 'mutual correction' when we fail.

Jesus often uses the familiar image of 'being at home' with him and with his Father. The very least any of us can expect is to be able to find a safe home in Christ's Church and the healing we may need – certainly an ongoing and delicate challenge today.

The Holy Spirit Parish pays respect to the Darug People, the traditional custodians of the land on which we gather to celebrate our faith and worship God. We acknowledge with respect the elders past and present.

We are a welcoming parish. Whatever your present status in the Catholic Church, whatever your current family or marital situation, whatever your past or present religious affiliation, whatever your personal history, age, background, race or color, sexual orientation, whatever your self-esteem... you are invited, welcomed, accepted, loved and respected by the Catholic Community of Holy Spirit.

If you are not an active member of this Community, consider sharing in what we have to offer. We serve the Community through outreach, education, social activities, sacramental preparation, youth and comfort to the sick and mourning. In addition to our spiritual and outreach organisations, perhaps you have an interest in joining one of our many liturgical ministries as: Minister of Holy Communion, Lector, Welcomer, Choir, etc.

Persons are formally registered by filling out a form that is then entered into the parish data system (information supplied remains confidential). These forms are available from the parish office or in the church foyer.

LIVE THE LITURGY Inspiration for the Week

“Stand up straight and don’t slouch!” Many a child has heard these words bellowed from their mother’s lips. We need the perspective of others to help us understand when we are not walking as straight as we could be. God sends us the Holy Spirit to correct and guide us so that our paths through life can be straight. Without this assistance, how we see and understand ourselves and the world around us is incomplete. We will also lack the virtue of fortitude. It takes courage to listen to the Holy Spirit and devote ourselves to the task of discipleship. We have to put aside things that the world says are necessary and follow a path placed before us by Jesus Christ. Jesus is asking us to follow him. We must consider what we have to do to be free enough to do so. God needs us to show the world a complete picture of what life is meant to be, correct its vision and tell it to stand up straight!

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

First Reading: Our Jewish sage teaches us that the mystery of God can only be understood through wisdom provided by the “Holy Spirit.” When do you pray for the gift of wisdom?

Second Reading: Paul urges his partner Philemon to see Onesimus no longer as a slave but as a “brother” now that Onesimus is a believer in Christ. When has your faith provoked an examination of conscience?

Gospel Reading: Jesus teaches the crowds that true discipleship demands one to “renounce all (your) possessions.” In other words, one’s ultimate concern should be solely the possession of the gift of salvation. Why do you think this is not self-evident to many?

WEEKLY JUSTICE CHALLENGES

Sunday’s first reading from Ezekiel has the prophet challenging us to confront those who do wrong. Jesus follows in the Gospel with a similar message. Often when we hear or see racism, greed, or other actions which deny people their human dignity, we remain silent. We don’t want to rock the boat or draw attention to ourselves. Your challenge this week is to be prophetic. When you hear someone putting down a person, a cultural or ethnic community, or whomever, speak the Gospel truth and challenge the offender to remember Jesus’ example of treating everyone with dignity because we are all created in God’s own image and likeness.

WHY DO WE DO THAT?
Catholic Life Explained:

Question:

I have been going to Mass for years and have always wondered: why do we make the three signs of the cross before the Gospel?

Answer:

Certainly, many people go to Mass or other devotions, doing and saying things out of habit or reverence and not really understanding the reasons behind some of these things. But everything we do has a meaning or purpose that helps us to worship better, proclaim our beliefs, or focus the attention of the people on something that has a greater importance or significance. A review of the meaning of various gestures and practices can help us have a deeper appreciation for what we do.

There is a little prayer that goes with the three crosses before the Gospel: "May the words of the Holy Gospel be on my mind, on my lips and in my heart." In standing to hear the Gospel, we acknowledge that Jesus is present, and the words of the Gospel are addressed to us. All of the gestures and special postures we adopt before the Gospel are intended to help us prepare for hearing the Word as well as act on it. The incense, the Alleluia, the deacon or priest, and the special dialogue and announcement that introduces the Gospel help us focus our attention on the Good News we are about to hear. The three signs of the cross show our desire and good intention to hear and live the Gospel.

CREATION CARE TIPS

"Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore, love is the fulfilling of the law." — Romans 13:10

Out of sight, out of mind. It can be so easy to trash something or pour something down the drain that will hurt someone or something else "downstream" because we forget that everyone downstream is a neighbor too. What items do you use or improperly dispose of that cause harm after they've left your sight? This week, look up your local hazardous waste organization to determine how to safely dispose of paint, batteries, e-waste, motor oil, medicines, etc.
