Dear Friends,

In a recent conversation with parishioners about St Augustine’s view of the Church, we noted around 24 diverse titles for the Church over the years – each reflecting a different dimension of the Church. Underpinning them all is the profound reality of the Body of Christ, the mystical union between ‘head and members’, Christ and ourselves – truly part of each other. Reference was made to the way Christ affirms our love of neighbour and identifies with every person, so clear in Matthew 25 – ‘As long as you did this to the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did it to me!’

Each of us may have our favourite image of the Church which expresses both the diversity among us and our unity with one another. Together as Church we share the sadness of the scandal of sexual abuse. Since 1990, our country has marked National Child Protection Week as a way of addressing these issues and offering support to victims. Extensive work has been undertaken in society and the Church to develop formal, professional standards protocols that reflect Gospel values of justice, love and common sense in everyday ministry.

Today is Safeguarding Sunday in the Church and we pause to reflect and pray and support each other, especially victims. The theme - ‘Every conversation matters’ - reminds us that creating space for conversations can help us understand issues, craft solutions, value community knowledge, and build the brains and social connections of children and young people, according to Safeguarding Coordinator of the Sisters of St Joseph, Jane Lacey who comments:

*Conversations between...
children and their caregivers matter (from the very earliest days)
children and their peers matter
families with teachers, doctors,
and other professionals matter
friends or neighbours matter
decision-makers and the communities
they serve matter.*

Frank conversations often break open difficult and unexpected topics which allow children to speak about their experiences, those that build up and those that confront, including those crucial to their safety and growth towards maturity and goodness.

The very least any of us can expect is to be able to find a home in Christ’s Church and the healing we may need – certainly an ongoing and delicate challenge today.

Fr. Lane

The Holy Spirit Parish pays respect to the Darug People, the traditional custodians of the land on which we gather to celebrate our faith and worship God. We acknowledge with respect the elders past and present.

We are a welcoming parish. Whatever your present status in the Catholic Church, whatever your current family or marital situation, whatever your past or present religious affiliation, whatever your personal history, age, background, race or color, sexual orientation, whatever your self-esteem... you are invited, welcomed, accepted, loved and respected by the Catholic Community of Holy Spirit.

If you are not an active member of this Community, consider sharing in what we have to offer. We serve the Community through outreach, education, social activities, sacramental preparation, youth and comfort to the sick and mourning. In addition to our spiritual and outreach organisations, perhaps you have an interest in joining one of our many liturgical ministries as: Minister of Holy Communion, Lector, Welcomer, Choir, etc.

Persons are formally registered by filling out a form that is then entered into the parish data system (information supplied remains confidential). These forms are available from the parish office or in the church foyer.

To know more about the life of the parish, you can grab a copy of our Welcome Newsletter available in the foyer or go to this link on our website: <https://holyspiritstclair.com.au/wp-content/uploads/2021/03/Holy-Spirit-Parish-Welcome-Newsletter.pdf>

LIVE THE LITURGY Inspiration of the Week

Life can be challenging and frightening. Sometimes, it really hurts to be a human being. We face brokenness of all kinds: physical, emotional, and spiritual. For no apparent reason, life can quickly fall apart. What we knew to be familiar is gone and something we relied upon is taken away. We are left sitting with our incompleteness and swimming in the pools of our sadness. Be strong! Fear not! These admonitions flow from the mouths of prophets and are echoed by Jesus. It is difficult to trust that restoration, healing, and rejuvenation will one day come, and remain steadfast in our faith. But we are here because of a God who loves us, not as the result of a random occurrence. When we reach for that truth about who we are and who God is, life changes for us. We are healed from our old distorted way of seeing things. Our eyes, heart, and soul are opened to the beauty and magnificence of life. The pulse of our loving Creator is felt in all things and we can't wait for God to come and touch us again. God made us, God loves us, and God keeps us. He has done all things well REFLECT FIRST READING The prophet Isaiah spoke of the importance of being strong of heart when it comes the ways of God. Why do you think this is such an important virtue?

SECOND READING James encouraged believers to view the rich and poor from God's perspective. Why do you think people struggle with this divine point of view?

GOSPEL READING In today's reading, we hear how Jesus healed the deaf man with a speech impediment at the request of the "people" close to this man. Who do you know in your life who needs healing from Jesus?

BAPTISMS

BAPTISM
Preparation Meeting

Parents wishing to have their child baptized are asked to contact the Parish Office prior to attending a preparation evening. Next Baptism Preparation session is on Tue 10th Sept 7.00pm. Presenter will be Michael Zammit.

WITH JOYFUL HEARTS, WE WELCOME OUR NEWLY BAPTIZED.

WEEKLY JUSTICE CHALLENGES

On September 8th, we celebrate Grandparents' Day. This is an opportunity to look at how we treat all of the elders in our communities, including but not limited to those in our own families. Your challenge this week is two-fold: do something special for the grandparents in your own family; but also identify an older person or couple in your community who suffer injustice in some way. It might be the injustice of loneliness, in which case a visit and a conversation would be great. It might be poverty; bringing a food basket or household supplies would be appropriate. Once your family identifies the elder in need, brainstorm the best way to help which also gives dignity and honor. No matter what you choose to do, find a way to let the elder share a life story or some wisdom with you from the perspective of many, many years of living. And don't forget to thank them for the gift of their wisdom.

WHY DO WE DO THAT?
Catholic Life Explained:

Question:

As we celebrate Labor Day, can you tell me about Catholic teaching regarding labor?

Answer:

One of the most important principles of Catholic social teaching is the dignity of work and the rights of workers. Four encyclicals address this foundational social teaching: Rerum Novarum (1891) by Leo XIII, Quadragesimo Anno (1931) by Pius XI, Laborem Exercens (1981), and Centesimus Annus (1991) by John Paul II. They address both the theology and dignity of work. In Genesis, God takes the initiative in creating the world, calling forth human beings to be faithful stewards of creation. We are thus formed to share in God’s continuing creative activity by partnering with God in finishing the world and helping bring it to completion and fulfillment. From this perspective, work can be spiritually understood in terms of sharing in God’s ongoing activity to build, create, and transform the world. Human beings are co-creators with God. This vocation demands self-discipline. Besides an exercise in self-discipline, work is also the means by which we develop and fulfill ourselves. In work, we shape the world and our environment. Through work, we also shape ourselves. Pope John Paul II summarized this point in Laborem Exercens #6, “the value of work is not primarily the kind of work being done, but the fact that the one who is doing it is a person.” Labor Day offers an excellent opportunity to reflect on how we view work in light of our Catholic social teaching.

CREATION CARE TIPS

Listen, my beloved brothers and sisters. Has not God chosen the poor in the world to be rich in faith and to be heirs of the kingdom that he has promised to those who love him?” –James 2:5. Pope Francis points out repeatedly in his encyclical Laudato Si’ that environmental degradation affects the poor and vulnerable the most. What can you do this week to offer special protection or care to the poor who are suffering from extreme weather events or other environmental impacts (lack of clean drinking water, crowded and unsanitary living conditions, etc.)?
